I believe you can do a full GYTR kit (basket, hub, pressure plate) and a Hinson clutch pack (fiber and steel plates with springs) for under $800. It's a good investment for a bike you plan on keeping long term. Even if you're only a weekend warrior. The clutch will probably outlast the rest of the bike.

The kits also come complete with heavy duty clutch springs. Yamaha clutch parts are asbestos free and lined with heavy duty anti-swell friction material, almost identical to OEM. We recommend soaking plates in drive case oil for 3-4 hours before installation. Always fit new motorcycle clutch parts to avoid clutch slippage.
